

Transitional Studies Department Career Academy ^[1]

Pitt Community College

This program provides students with learning difficulties opportunity to explore and develop job skills, career choices, academics in career contexts, and goals and objectives for job attainment.

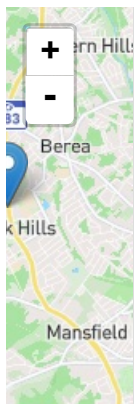

Students may choose to complete one or two years of preparation. Upon exit, students participate in graduation and receive a certificate of Career Academy completion. A transcript outlining skills attained and job preferences based on participation in specific career modules is also issued to assist students in job placement.

The program of study has been developed in partnership with Vocational Rehabilitation Services.

Students receive instruction and hands-on experience in each of these modules: Horticulture/Grounds Maintenance/Landscaping; Housekeeping/Building Maintenance/Cleaning; Food Preparation/Service; Consumer Skills/Retail/Sales. Modules have been developed based on the NC Career Cluster guide and input from community employers, Vocational Rehabilitation representatives, and instructors in the various career fields. Additional modules in automotive assistant, welding jobs, and early child development are being developed. Short term internships may also be available soon.

Any student wishing to enroll in this program may do so; emphasis is placed on teaching to students with learning challenges or difficulties.
